

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JUNE, 9, 1882.

VOL. I.

NO. 27.

NICK MARSH has a good, cheap "history" for sale.

BORN—To the wife of Thomas Roche, a daughter on Wednesday.

WILL TARR invested $90, and Horace Miller $70, in the great history.

Army-worm re-unions are now being held all over the blue grass region.

Every worm is a self-constituted officer in the grand army of the army worms.

JUDGE TURNEY wants to trade a good history for an energetic book agent dog.

Man born of woman is of few days, and is liable to get swindled by book agents.

Hogs will fatten on army worms, and will not touch anything else as long as they can find worms.

ACCORDING to "history," Walter Clark has good business sense, and can offer horse-philly to 100 horses.

COOK, the man who was shot in Lexington Sunday, and thought to be fatally injured, is now convalescing.

A history reunion will be held in Judge Turney's office Saturday afternoon. All boxes with short tails are invited.

DR. KELLER offers to play a match game of obtaining history with any piece of man of any precinct of the county.

JUDGE TURNEY tried to give his history to Charlie Hanson, but Charlie was too mean and unaccommodating to take it.

THE old historian now garnereth in the ducats, and chuckleth in a sleeve that is too small for half of a good-sized chuckle.

See the card of Caliban, sire of Coaster, 2:26, and Cyclone, 2:26, by Mambrino Pilot, dam Cassia, by Cassius M. Clay, in this paper.

FIFTY years from now, the Bible and the History of Bourbon, Scott, Harrison, and Nicholas, will be the leading books for authority.

Alex McClintock shipped from this city, for W. B. Yost, Newark, Ohio, a car load of fine Jersey cows and heifers—mostly unregistered.

LATER!—Judge Turney doesn't want to sell his history. He now values it at $1,000, on account of Will Speaks' "obituary" and "pedigree."

Eggs retail here at 20 cents per dozen, and histories at $12 each, and the SEMI-WEEKLY BOURBON NEWS sells at only $2 per annum, in advance.

HAIL-STONES a foot long, have recently fallen in Virginia, and several people were badly bruised. Houses and barns were swept by the storm.

JAMES GARRET, of this city, fell from the abutment of the new bridge over Hinkson near Lot Young's, and broke the ulnar bone of each arm.

PROF. LOCKHART is making a corner on "histories." He has bought three, at prices ranging from $2.50 to $6. He is going to start a "history" store.

WHITE, the Lexington bank bond thief, was convicted and sentenced to a term of two years in the penitentiary, after the jury having been in session several days.

The Board of Curators of Kentucky University, have confirmed the sale of Ashland, the home of Clay. The tract contains 323 acres, and was sold for $60,000.

NEW ARITHMETIC: If Eph January paid $12 for a "history," and sold it for $2.50, how many lies will he have to tell in selling stoves to make his money back?

If the biographies of Judge Hawes, Maj. Williams, Porter Smith, Isham Talbott, and Gov. Garrard are in the new history, we've not been able to find them.

SEE here, Gabe? What am I de difference 'tween a fusson 'loosin' der mind, and a pusson fishin'?' "Gum it up." Why one am insane, and the udder am seinin'. See, Gabe?"

BETWEEN the army worm, "hog" poker and the history men, Bourbon agriculturalists and civilized professional men of all classes, are having a regular Poll Parrot and monkey of a time.

OUR "history" cost us nothing but a few local notices, and our biography was thrown in. In accepting the book though, we did not sell out the liberty of expression of true utterances. We CAN lie, but won't do it.

ACCORDING to the new history, Hutchison's Station precinct has no great men, but the other precincts of the county have the following numbers: Paris, 103; Millersburg, 40; North Middletown, 35; Ruddels' Mills, 20; Clintonville, 23; Centerville, 19.

BOUQUETS profuse with the finest flowers extant, plants, running vines, and everything in the green-house line, can be had at James Hinton's, in Henderson's block, two doors above Davis & Lyles.

The scholars of the Baptist Sunday School will have an entertainment at the Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, sharp. Exercises will consist of singing, recitation, etc. All are cordially invited to attend.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has placed Albert Adair in a new and cozy little office in Henderson's block, next door to Davis & Lyles. This gives our city quite a metropolitan appearance, and adds at least two taps to Albert's shoe heels.

PARTIES wearing fiery flashes in their eyes, and flashing blades at their belts, in search of the News editor to-day will find him quietly domiciled behind a barricade of "histories," armed with a single-barreled shot-gun, and a bull-dog entertainment for six.

In answer to the question, "What goes with the money in Bourbon?" Charles Carroll Lear says that it will just take 20,000 bushels of the wheat now growing, to pay for the "History of Bourbon," Scott, Harrison and Nicholas, sold in this county for $50,000 worth of wheat in the four counties.

ANYBODY wanting to buy a "good" history of the noted bluegrass region and its great men, would do well to call on Judge Matt Turney, Dr. Keller, John Caldwell, Dr. Buck, Prof. Lockhart, and others. They will knock off 2,000 per cent for cash, and throw in $900 worth of good advice, to the buyer.

CAPT. TURNEY, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, at the Blue Licks, has been down to Cincinnati this week employing waiters and buying stores for the opening which takes place on the 15th. Large preparations are being made in every way, and the patronage of these celebrated Springs will be larger this season than ever before.

PROF. W. H. LOCKHART didn't do us hardly the square thing, when Dr. Joe Fithian was trading his history for a years subscription for the News, when he made a bid of $2.50 (fifty cents over our offer,) and took the cake, but since we have had further time for reflection over our rash offer, we've concluded to forgive the professor and give him a little chrono.

In the buy-off-graphical sketch of W. H. Speaks, the historic fact goes thundering down through ages that, three boys, "Jack," "Hez," and "Bill," were represented at the corn-shuckings and wood-choppings through four generations. In the fifth generation "Hez" dropped out of ranks by death, and broke up the grand combination of coincidental wonders of the 19th century.

DICK TAYLOR writes us from Midway, farmers are cutting their barley in self-defense, as the army worm is playing sad havoc with it. H. F. Rogers lost about two-thirds of his crop in one night. Withrow Parish, and others are dragging their fields night and day with ropes, knocking the worms off. We also get reports from different sections of this county, where farmers are ditching their fields and destroying the pests.

JOS. M. JONES, our Circuit Clerk, subscribed for a "history," and when the historian read him the manuscript of his biography, Joe smelt a mouse as to what the book would be, and concluded not to take a book, and erased his name from the list, and declared the business void. The other day when the new man came around to deliver books, he brought one to Joe and showed his name on the subscription book with the erasure carefully scraped off—but it was no go.

The new history is much abused here on account of not giving the venerable John G. Craddock's age. It makes favorable mention of his skilled adaptability for chasing down ex-Bourbons and free hash, and the fact that he saved the hide from one of Noah's alligators from which he made his celebrated shoes which he has worn from the time of the flood down to the present day. His life-size picture will be published in supplement form, especially dedicated to Miss Marie Barnes.

When an editor buys two dollars' worth of goods from a merchant, that doesn't entitle the editor to free groceries the balance of the year. Just so with the merchant—when he pays the editor two dollars for value received in subscription, he is not entitled to free advertising. But few, however, ever think of business in that light. A farmer, mechanic, or any other professional man is entitled to free advertisement just as much as a merchant. Our columns are therefore open to all just the same, at our regular advertising rates.

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.

Dan Turney wants a V for a history. The man who makes others happy, is happiest.

Everybody is "Praising the Lord" over at Frankfort now.

Judge Harbeson, of Flemingsburg, is a candidate for Congress.

The kingdom of kindness knows no discrimination between rich and poor.

There's one good feature about the history—it doesn't contain any "Barnes Notes."

The greatest wonder of all is, that "Jimmie & Pa" didn't adorn the new History with their pictures.

Oscar Burbridge is a better looking man than his historic picture. Now he went sue us for libel.

Dr. Howard ought to be tried before a court of lunatics inquiring, for asking $10 for a history that cost $12.

Mortgages cast shadows on the sunniest fields, and overeth beaming faces with Egyptianummy sombreness.

Two cents worth of strawberries are worth a dollar if you will pay 100 per cent in a fore investment.

Will, a freight brakeman, got his foot crushed between two box cars yesterday at the freight depot.

Bob Ingalls says he would rather be a beggar and spend a dollar like a king, than be a king and spend a dollar like a beggar.

Geo. W. Taylor, of Maysville, has gone to Europe. He was banqueting in Princely style before he left, by his many friends.

If a brigade of fool-killers will only come this way, we will give them a valuable pointer towards finding an all-summer's job.

After a man kills seven wives in Georgia, he's no longer recognized in society. What a desolate and heartless country that must be?

Will Tarr wears a $99 historic grin, and Horace Miller rubs his hands and tries to convince himself that the history is a very fine thing.

Capt. Gano Hill's manly picture holds the Centerville precinct up by the tail, while the balance of the county looks on with admiring eyes.

For the correct ages of a majority of the leading belles of Bourbon, Scott, Harrison and Nicholas counties, see that bachelor's friend history.

Miss Vansant, one of Flemingsburg's most agreeable young ladies, passed through here yesterday for Danville, to attend the Commencements.

There never has been a dollar carried out of this world by a dead man, nor has ever a dead man been known to have any particular need of money.

Bob Ingalls says "The man that has gained the love of one good, splendid, pure woman, his life has been a success, no matter if he died the ditch."

Diamond jeweled garters are selling in New York at from $1,500 to $2,000. But few are sold except to editors, who give them away at press conventions.

The Rev. Dr. Rutherford, of this city will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon before the Young Men's Christian Association of Ohio University, at Richmond, Ky.

To make beautiful children, parents must be beautiful themselves. Promises to children must be golden, else the harvest of love and love will be a slim one.

"History" only things of weight. Resulted of persons, or affairs of state, Bridle, with truth and clearness should relate.

Lacronic shortness memory feeds. Those historic sketches in Bourbon's new history are chiefly buy-ographies, at $12 a buy. They will be read, with astounding interest in the sweet buy, and buy high.

A man never experiences the soothing influences of royal, grandiloquent greatness, until he is biographically recorded in the history of his county, with all the glaring head-lights.

Now the bull-minnow of every little theological hamlet, is getting in his work on grinding of terbacker-Laura-Sermons at every little cross-roads school whoop-up-and-de-dooden-do.

If six men who talk politics and dispute on Biblical questions can build a wall in five days, how long will it take two men who whistle and flirt with the widow on the corner to do the same work.

Even if we have to admit it ourselves, the Millersburg Dancing Club have had very toney programmes printed at the News office, for their Commencement Hop, on next Tuesday night.

We may be a little too rash, but we will make this proposition anyhow. We will give five years' subscription to "the News," for five copies of the new "history." We want to give them to a lady friend for a piano stool.

Millersburg Items.

Miss Lucy Sharp is making quite an extended visit to friends in Covington.

The Commencement sermon and races are looked forward to with much eagerness Sunday.

Miss Jennie Vimont has returned from Lexington Female College, with an elocution mecal.

In the new history, John Boulden served in the army under Capt. Lawson. It should be Capt. Lawrence Jones.

Silas Paul has been elected marshal of Millersburg, for a month, at a salary of $25. What's the town going to do after that month.

George Nippert, the confectioner, will amply supply all first-class commencement spreads with ice-cream, strawberries, and other delicacies during the festive week.

Carlisle and Millersburg will play a game of base ball at Millersburg to-morrow. On Tuesday the Millersburg Euclians wallowed the Philomatheans in the mud to the tune of 15 to 9.

W. H. H. Johnson will be tried in Police Court to-day for selling cigars on Sunday. If fined, Mr. Johnson will take the case to the Court of Appeals to test the virtue of the Sunday law.

Joe. Will Miller has had his residence painted the deepest red in the United States. He calls it a Philadelphia brick, but it is more like cardinal paint mixed with Indian blood and pions.

Alf Corrington and wife left for Topeka, Kansas, Wednesday. Alf will go into the grocery business. His brother Steve makes his headquarters there, and is making quite a success in the wire-fence business.

Rogers & Henry desire to close up their business immediately, and earnestly request all against whom they have accounts, to come up promptly and settle. They ask this as a special favor of whom they have granted many favors.

Dr. B. F. Walters, our newly adopted dentist, from Lancaster, is nicely situated in the Joe. Will Miller property on Main street, and has work coming in rapidly—having engagements for more than a week ahead, and is much pleased with his new location.

Mrs. Rev. Presly Brown, wife of a former pastor of Baptist church here, writes back from Texas that her husband died a year ago, of erysipelas. Her son "Pres" is married, and lives at Lake City, Colorado. Also, that Bob Armstrong, formerly of this place, is running a locomotive on a railroad leading into Columbus, Texas, and that he is doing well.

Tom Hall went to Cincinnati Wednesday, to look about getting machinery for the new flouring mill. The stock-holders have decided to go ahead and erect one at the cost of $15,000 now on their books. The recent statistical report published, showed only the amount of flour and grain, shipped and received at our depot. It must be recollected that Foster, our local miller, furnishes lots of flour, besides many wagon-loads have been hauled from Carlisle.

Rev. J. J. Dicky and a little crusade of married ladies, laid siege to the city council at a recent meeting, in order to offer a general protest against the sale of liquor in the town. In order to have a secret vote, a resolution was passed to clear the hall of visitors, which had the effect of bringing down the vengeance of the ladies on the council. The crusaders not getting liquor expunged from the town, succeeded in starting the enforcement of the Sunday law, last Sunday.

The bottles were few and small, And they gladly looked for the morrow.

Henry Vimont writes back from Leadville, Colorado, that he is clerking with six others, in a grocery, and gets $75 per month with a promised raise. His house retails $30,000 worth of goods per month—all cash. Only two men killed there on May 24th, date of letter, and snow had fallen three days in succession. Snow from four to twenty feet deep on mountains, only twelve miles distant. Mechanics getting from $3 to $7 per day; wagon and two horses hire for ten dollars per day, and saddle horses $5. Joe and Tom are doing well.
